

The way cancer patients around the world retain hair and self confidence

With over 1800 systems in use in 32 countries Paxman is the global leader in scalp cooling whose systems have treated thousands of patients around the world. Paxman's scalp cooler offers patients the most comfortable option for the prevention of chemotherapy induced alopecia.

Features

- Proven success rates
- Mobile system = mobile patient
- Minimal nursing supervision required
- Simple to operate touch screen display
- Constant temperature maintained throughout treatment
- Caps do not require changing during treatment
- 5 cap sizes available to cater for various head shapes, moulds to shape and contour of head
- Lightweight, reusable silicone caps supplied with neoprene covers for effective insulation
- Available as single or double model, where each patient can be treated independently

